DON WINSLOW OF THE NAVY VOL. 1: The DELL Comics: 230 PAGES OF NAVAL ADVENTURE ACTION AND INTRIGUE FROM THE 1930s AND '40s

Synopsis

DON WINSLOW OF THE NAVY VOL. 1: The DELL Comics (See VOL. 2 for the FAWCETT Comic Books) 230 PAGES OF NAVAL ADVENTURE ACTION AND INTRIGUE FROM THE 1930s AND 1940s Don Winslow of the Navy was an American comic strip created by Frank Victor Martinek and distributed by the Bell Syndicate from 1934 to 1955. The title character was a spy-chasing Lieutenant Commander in Naval intelligence. The comic strip led to a radio adventure serial that began in 1937, as well as film serials that began in 1942. Original comics stories also appeared in Fawcett comic books starting in 1943. Following up on the success of the comic strip, reprints of the feature in comic book form appeared from various publishers. In 1938 Dell Comics began reprinting the newspaper strips in Crackjack Funnies alongside other established newspaper features. When that title ceased publication in 1942, Don Winslow reprints began running in Popular Comics, again with other strip favorites of the era. In addition, Dell also had Don Winslow in two issues of their Four Color Comics, a series which spotlighted a different character with nearly every issue. This book contains the Don Winslow of the Navy that appeared in the Dell comic books Crackjack Funnies, Popular Comics and Four Color Comics, which were reprints of the newspaper comic strips published between 1934 and 1938. These comics have been edited into chronological order for story continuity. ENJOY!
